

Privacy/Confidentiality Policy

Attune Travel will not divulge or in any way communicate the names or identities of the tour guests, without prior written consent of the guest. The identities will be known internally within Attune Travel and all of its owners, employees and contractors will be privy to this information. Where individual reservations require the identity of the guest staying in the room or taking part in an activity, we will confirm the guest's preferences in writing regarding the release of this information. No images of the tour guests or written narrative of any part of the tour will be used in social media, online or in printed advertising materials without the written permission of the guest.